✓	Active	Beetles	eat	insects.
	Passive	Insects	are eaten	by beetles.
✗	Active	People	don't see	wild animals in houses.
	Passive	Wild animals	aren't seen	(by people) in houses.
?	Active	Do we	find	dinosaur bones on the Moon?
	Passive	Are dinosaur bones	found	(by us) on the Moon?

2 Read and choose the correct option.

1 The sentences are about the past / present / future.

2 The sentences focus on who does the actions / what action is done.

3 The sentences begin by mentioning a thing / a person.

Insects are eaten by other animals.
Butterflies aren't seen in cold seasons.
A tortoise is found in the mountains.

3 Read and check (✓) the sentence with a similar meaning.

1 Insects are eaten by other animals.
- a Insects eat other animals. ☐
- b Other animals eat insects. ☐

2 Butterflies aren't seen in cold seasons.
- a Butterflies don't see in cold seasons. ☐
- b We don't see butterflies in cold seasons. ☐

3 Are tortoises found in the mountains?
- a Do we find tortoises in mountains? ☐
- b Do tortoises find mountains? ☐

4 Choose the correct option.

1 Beetles aren't eaten / don't eat by butterflies.
2 Are butterflies see / seen in hot places?
3 Dinosaur bones study / are studied by scientists.
4 Are some wild animals hunted / hunt by people?
5 Dinosaurs aren't found / don't find in the wild today.

5 Read and fill in the blanks.

Animals in Danger

Not all animals have an easy life. Many animals [1] are hunted (hunt) by people for food. Many are in danger, but some [2] _____ (protect) by the law, such as the Arabian leopard.

Other creatures and insects [3] _____ (hurt) by chemicals, or they [4] _____ (eat) by larger animals.

Some animals, like cats and dogs, live in dangerous places where they [5] _____ (not give) food or water. Sometimes, they [6] _____ (save) by kind people and they [7] _____ (take) to a place where they [8] _____ (look) after.

6 Work with your partner. Play a game.

- Think about a creature.
- Think of a sentence (where it is found, what it is eaten by, etc.).
- Say the sentence without saying the creature (It is eaten by ...).
- Your partner should guess the creature. They can ask questions.

It is eaten by cats.

Yes!

Is it found in houses?

1 Look and discuss in pairs.

1 Who do you think the children are, and where are they?

2 What do you think is happening?

2 1.5 Read, listen, and check.

Oli and his younger sister, Amber, are sent on a walk in the park by their mom. Amber is excited as she is tested by her brother about the different creatures in the park. She is learning about creatures in school.
"Look!" says Oli, pointing at the water. "There's a dinosaur!"
"That's not a dinosaur!" says Amber, laughing. "They can't be seen anymore. They're extinct!"
"You're right! It must be a butterfly," says Oli, scratching his head. "Look, can you see its wings?"
"Nooo!" laughs Amber. "It doesn't have wings! It's a tortoise!"
"Oh, I see," says Oli, playfully. "Look over here on this plant. A beetle!"
Amber looks at a small beetle standing on a leaf. "You know some beetles are eaten by people!" explains Oli.
"That's silly!" says Amber as her brother pretends to put a beetle in his mouth. "Stop!" she laughs. "You can't eat it! It will move around in your mouth!"
As they walk further, Oli holds Amber's arm and tells her to be quiet.
"I think that's a tiger," he whispers. "Careful! We don't want to be eaten!"
"That's not right!" says Amber, thinking. "Tigers aren't found in the park! That's just a cat!"
Suddenly, the cat meows at the brother and sister.
"Run!" says Oli as they run out of the park, laughing all the way home.
"What did you find in the park?" asks their mom.
"All sorts of things," says Oli.
"Yeah!" answers Amber. "We saw dinosaurs and tigers. And Oli ate a beetle!"
"That sounds like fun!" says their mom, winking at Oli.

Maria is a zoologist.

2 Zoologists study and look after animals. ☐

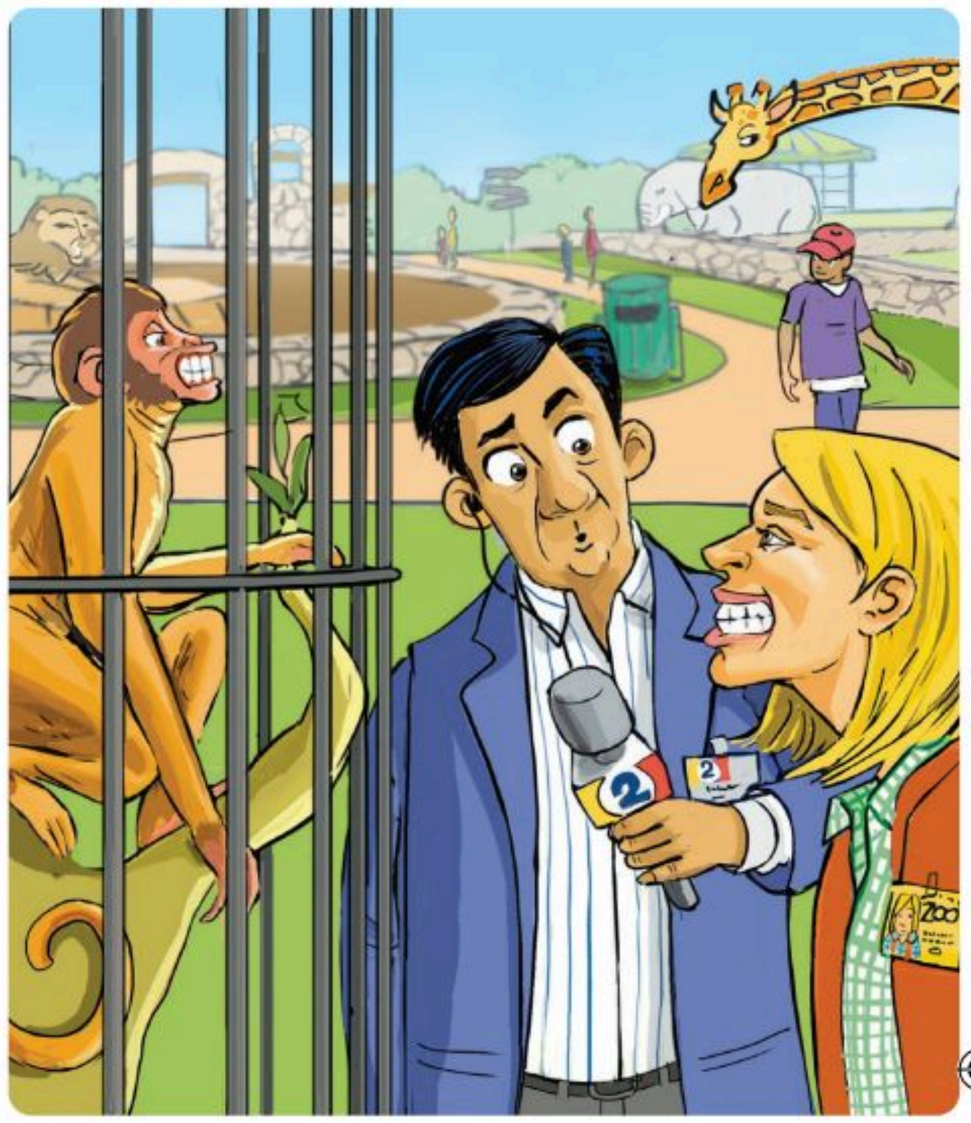

3 All zoologists work in zoos. ☐

4 Maria is happy in her job. ☐

5 Maria's favorite creatures in the zoo are insects. ☐

6 Maria plays with the monkeys to control her anger. ☐

7 William thinks playing with monkeys is normal. ☐

3 Use the information to role play an interview.

Student A

Interview your friend. Ask them about:

- what they do.
- where they work.
- what animal is their favorite to work with, and why.
- what animal they don't like.

Student B

You are a zoologist. Prepare notes to answer the questions:

- What do you do as a zoologist?
- Do you work in the zoo or in the animal's habitat? Why?
- What's your favorite animal to work with? Why?
- What animal don't you like? Why?

Hi, ... What do you do?

I'm a zoologist. I look after ...

That's interesting! Do you work in a zoo or in the wild?

Social and Emotional Learning

Different Animal Environments

Do you know where different animals live? Let us tell you about three different animal environments.

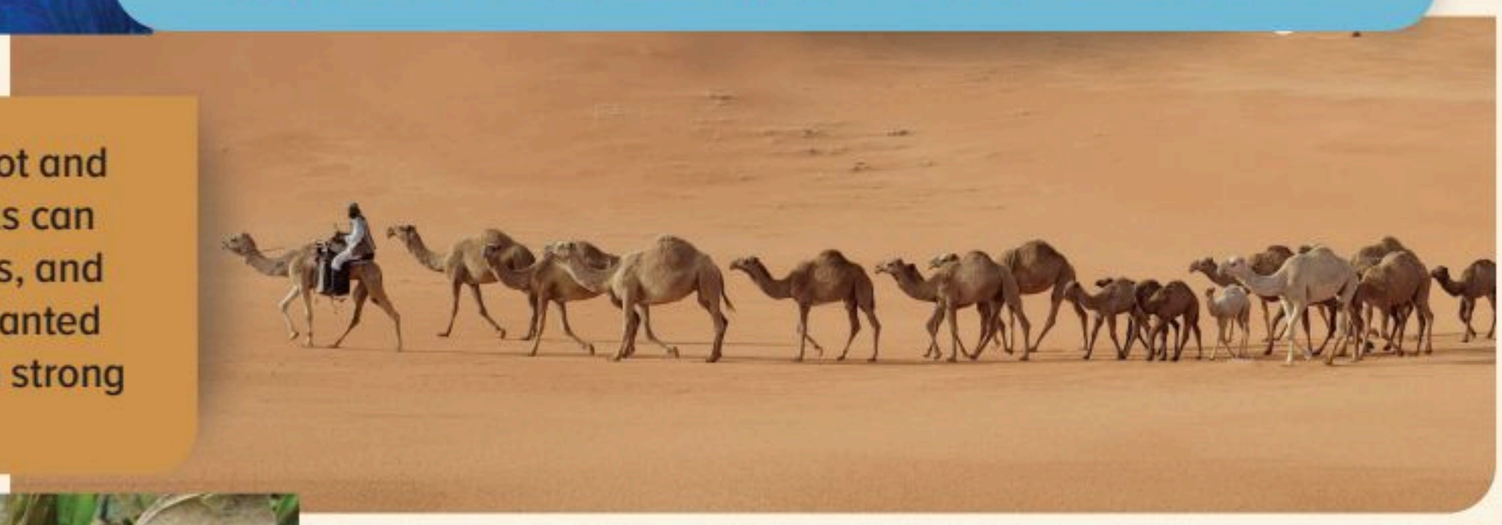

Water-based

Some animals, like the shark, octopus, or fish, live in the ocean. That's where the water is most salty and cold. These animals can breathe underwater! Many fish are eaten by sharks deep underwater. Others live in rivers, which is where many small fish are found, or in ponds and lakes. Swans don't breathe underwater, but they swim on top of it.

Desert-based

The desert is where the sun is really hot and there isn't much rain, so not all animals can have their home there. Camels, snakes, and tortoises all live in the desert. If you wanted to see them, you would have to put on strong sun protection and drink lots of water!

Forest-based

Forests are full of trees and offer lots of fresh food for the animals. You might find lots of different nests in the trees – that's where birds lay their eggs. The forest floor is where you might find lots of insects, as well as bigger animals, like tigers.

1 What does the article describe? The article describes where animals live.

2 How many types of homes does it describe?

3 Where can water-based animals live?

4 What kind of animal is a camel?

5 What climate does a desert have?

1 Look at the titles and predict the information in the text.

Animal Traits

What are animal traits?

Animals have traits. Three of these traits are body parts, body coverings, and behavior. Traits may be unique to each type of animal. Animals are protected by their traits, which help them survive.

Body Parts

Some animals have body parts that help them survive. Camels are found in very dry environments, so they can't find water easily. The furry hump, where extra food is kept, means they can continue without drinking for seven months.

Can birds swim? Penguins use their wings as flippers. This helps them swim through the water because their food is water-based.

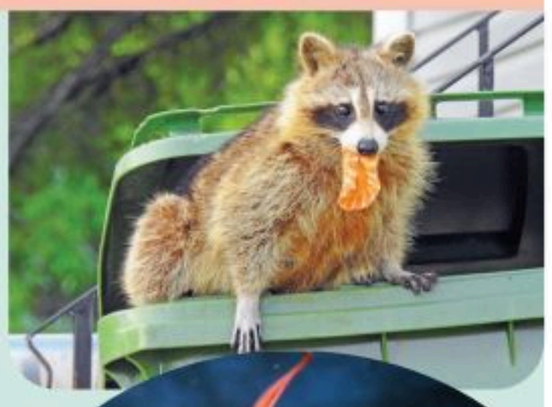

Body Coverings

Some animals have body coverings that suit their environment. Polar bears are covered in white fur that keeps them hidden in the snow. This means they can catch food easily. Their fur is also very thick to keep them warm in the cold winters.

Chameleons are constantly changing their body coverings! Their color is changed to hide from danger, to mate, and also to reflect some emotions.

Behavior

Most animals have very specific diets, but raccoons eat any food they find. The environment where they live is urban (city-like), so they have learned to eat food that is wasted by humans. This food is found in trash cans.

Can animals use tools? Octopuses are very intelligent. They have learned to use different tools for survival under water. They can also change the color and even texture of their skin to hide!

2 Read the text again and answer the questions.

1 How many kinds of traits are there in the text? There are three kinds of traits.

Pancakes for Breakfast

Fahad was in the kitchen making pancakes with his brother Omar. "If we want to make more pancakes, we will need more milk," said Omar. Fahad added more milk and mixed it in the bowl.

"Let's add some healthy ingredients to our pancakes," said Fahad.

"Good idea!" said Omar. "We need to eat well if we want to have lots of energy for our football match later."

"What about some fresh fruit and nuts?" suggested Fahad. "That will taste nice and give us energy."

Fahad and Omar added fruit and nuts to the pancake mix. Then they added some spices for extra flavor. Omar turned on the stove and Fahad poured oil in the pan. They cooked lots of pancakes.

"We're almost ready!" Fahad called to his parents. "If you're hungry, you'll love these!" Mom and Dad walked into the kitchen and saw all the pancakes. "Wow!" said Mom. "Those pancakes look delicious!"

"I'm hungry!" said Dad.

"Oh no," said Fahad. "We're late! If we don't leave now, we'll miss the football match."

"You will need to get up earlier if you want to eat pancakes for breakfast," said Mom.

1 Aisha's Favorite Food ☐ 2 Our Food Adventure ☐ 3 The Worst Restaurants ☐

In our travels around the world, my cousin Aisha and I tasted lots of different kinds of food and had some cooking classes, too! Some dishes were really tasty, while we didn't really like others. If you're interested, I will tell you about our most exciting experiences.

When we were traveling the world last year, we decided to eat at a local market. We tried a few fried dough snacks. They were sweet and we ate them with a warm chocolate sauce. A really nice snack! I asked to meet the cook because I was very pleased!

In a different country, we visited a famous restaurant where we had soup with a little meat and a few olives. Aisha didn't like it much; it was mainly water. I don't think the meat was cooked well. The price was also too high, and I think there were mice in the kitchen! Yuck! Remember, if there are mice in the kitchen, it's not a very healthy place to eat!

In another restaurant close by, we went looking for dessert. The waiters let us try a few strawberries with a little chocolate sauce and honey-flavored ice cream. It was delicious!

Food is different all over the world, but you don't have to travel to try different flavors! If you look around your town or city, you will find lots of interesting places to eat. What foods have you tasted?

Victor's Violin

Victor has played the violin since he was three years old. He loves the sound it makes and the feel of making music with his instrument. He loves going to concerts to see other musicians play and has been to a music festival every year for four years. There is nothing he likes more than the violin.

Victor's problem is that the violin isn't a popular instrument. His classmates don't listen to classical music. Nobody understands his passion.

One day, when Victor is practicing, he hears a small voice from under his chin. He looks down and sees a face looking at him. Is his violin alive?

"Listen up, kid," says the violin. "We need to make you famous. How long have you had me now?"

Victor was so surprised he could barely speak! "Um ... ten years. I've had you for ten years."

"So why aren't you famous yet?" asked the violin. "Don't worry. I have an idea."

The next day, Victor and his violin go to school, and he starts to play. As usual, nobody is interested.

Then, the violin starts to sing. The sound mixes jazz music with Victor's tune. Suddenly, everyone wants more!

Kids at school ask Victor where he learned to play. Some put videos online, and soon famous musicians want to make him a star!

"How did you do that?" Victor asks the violin. But the face doesn't appear. In fact, it never does again.

Subject: Hello! Oud pic Concert Invitation

Hey, Nouf!

I hope you're OK and enjoying your vacation. How long have you been at the beach now? I bet it's awesome. I wish I was at the beach! I wanted to ask you if you've tried to collect any stamps while you're away. I just found an awesome one, and I thought you could add it to your collection. I can keep it safe for you if you like.

I'm not really interested in collecting stamps anymore. I'm playing more music! I've been a member of a traditional Saudi band for three weeks, and I love it! The band say I'm really good because I play with a lot of energy. My interests are changing a lot. I don't really like the same music or games as before. I wonder why that is.

I've also taken some chess classes. I just won a game against my mom! Maybe you can learn too, so we can play together!

Anyway, I wanted to invite you to our concert next month. The invitation is attached to the e-mail. I also added a photo of my new oud! Hope you can come!

See you soon!

Cultural Traditions
Around the World

Drums

There are many types of drums around the world, and they are culturally important.
Drums have existed for more than 8,000 years! Some are used in rituals and religious or spiritual ceremonies. Others are used to bring communities together. Some drums are played with the hands, while others are played with sticks or feet. Drums are an important part of traditional Saudi music. There are many types of drums, and each one produces a different sound.

Festivals

Janadriyah is a festival to celebrate Saudi culture. It was first celebrated in 1985. Traditional music, dance, crafts, and camel racing are part of the Janadriyah festival.

Events and Invitations

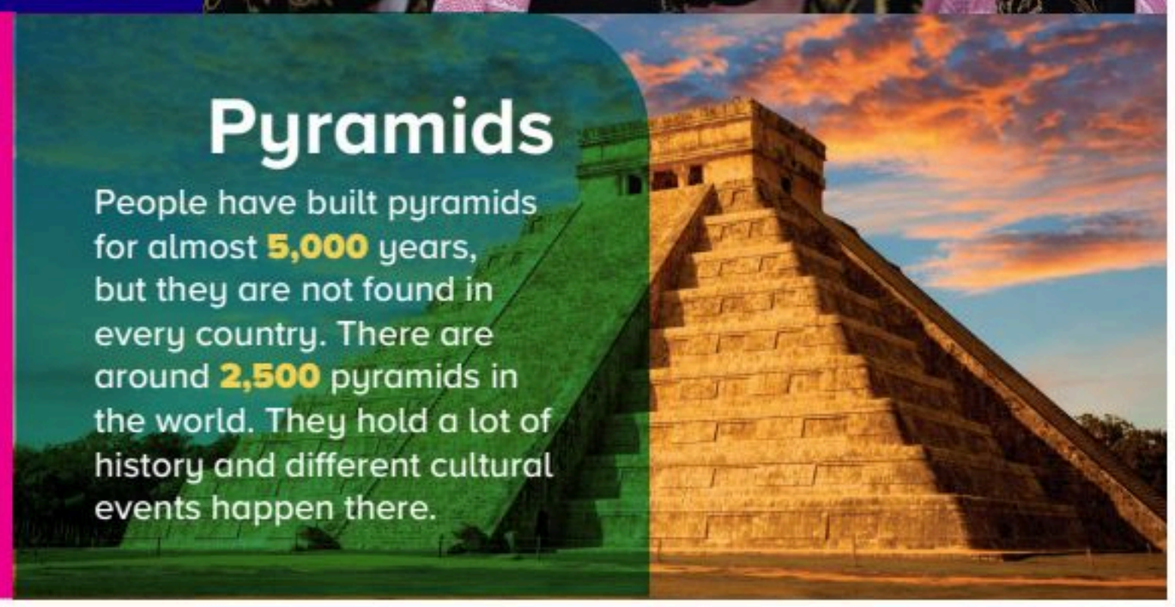

Cultures around the world have different ideas about events and invitations.
Check the time on the invitation carefully. If you are in Germany, they might think you are rude when you arrive late. However, if you are early in Venezuela, they will think you are greedy.
Different flowers in Saudi Arabia have special meanings.

Pyramids

People have built pyramids for almost 5,000 years, but they are not found in every country. There are around 2,500 pyramids in the world. They hold a lot of history and different cultural events happen there.

A Special Visitor at School

It was Future Professions Day at school, and all the children invited their parents to visit. They told the class about their jobs, how they help the community, and how the kids could have professions just like them when they are older. Sahar's mom was telling the class about the importance of doctors in the community when they heard heavy footsteps outside the room. Amal was very excited. Everyone watched a tall figure walk into the room. She was dressed all in white with a big helmet on her head and a box on her back. Everyone was amazed.

"Wow!" said Rafa. "That's awesome! Who is that?"

"That's my mom. She's an astronaut," said Amal. "She travels in space!"

While Amal's mom was speaking to the class about her job, Sahar looked unhappy.

"Doctors are more important than astronauts," she said. "My mom helps people when they're sick. When do astronauts help us?"

The teacher heard this and answered. "All professions are very important, Sahar. Even if we don't see them often."

"That's right!" said Nouf. "My dad makes everything clean. Without him, we might get sick!"

"And my dad makes sure all our digital communication is secure and safe," said Noura, "so other people don't steal our information online!"

"Yes," answered Amal, "and astronauts help us understand planet Earth and space!"

"Exactly," said their teacher. "All professions help us in different ways, and they are all valuable."

a An Ordinary Day ☐ b An Unusual Message ☐ c In Trouble ☐

One day, I was eating breakfast when a video message arrived on my cell phone. I thought the message was from my cousin who lives in another country. 'Wow," I thought. "It's going to be great to hear my cousin's news!"

While I was watching the video message, I thought it seemed strange. My name was spelled wrong and the message asked me to visit a new website and type in lots of personal information. I closed the message and told my mom about it. My mom is a cybersecurity analyst who protects businesses from cyberattacks.

My mom looked worried. She told me to delete the message and not to click on any of the links. She said that it might be a phishing attack. Phishing is when an attacker tricks people into giving away information. The message which looked like it was from my cousin might actually be from a stranger! And the person who sent the message might try to steal my identity!

I was glad that I didn't click on the link in the message. The next day, I told my cousin about the message. My cousin was confused.

"That message wasn't from me, Rana!" she said. "My email account must have been hacked. The password that I use for my email is very easy to guess. I need to change it!"

My cousin changed her password for her email account and for all her other apps. She didn't want to get hacked again. I decided to update my passwords, too!

The Weekend Competition

The high school volleyball team was preparing for a competition on the weekend.

"We're selling tickets more quickly than last year," said Lena.

"That's because we have the best posters this year," replied Nora, who made the posters for the competition.

"All right, team," shouted the coach. "Let's get back to practice!"

The team finished their snacks, throwing their trash in the trash can. Lena threw her banana peel but missed, and it landed on the floor. They all started walking towards the court.

Suddenly, there was a loud scream. Daisy stepped on the banana peel, slipped, and fell hard on the ground.

"Ow!" she shouted. "I think my knee is broken!"

"Let's see," said the coach. "It's not broken, but it is hurt."

Daisy walked slowly back to her seat.

"Are you going to be OK?" asked Nora.

"I don't know. What about the competition? I really wanted to play!"

"Let's see how you're feeling tomorrow," said the coach.

The next day, Daisy walked into school looking upset. The pain was worse than the day before, but she still wanted to be in the competition. Her team helped Daisy to think about it properly.

"Let's think about this," said Lena. "If you play, you'll run more slowly than normal."

"I suppose," thought Daisy, "and that might make the team lose."

"Yes, and it might hurt more after the game than it does now."

"What if you come to support us?" suggested Nora. "You'll rest your knee, and you'll probably feel better afterwards. Then you can join the competition next month!"

Daisy made the responsible decision. "You're right. I'll come and support you. Thanks, everyone! You're the best!"

1 Does the school football team have a competition soon?
No, the school volleyball team has a competition soon.

My Thoughts on the Sports I Tried

I tried four sports in the past month, and here's what I think.

Snowboarding

This was the most exciting sport, definitely. If you're as brave as I am, you'll have a great time! I moved down the mountain on my snowboard more quickly than when cycling, so it was more dangerous. You need strength to change direction and not fall over. But I loved it! Just remember to wear the right clothes or you might get cold and wet!

Cycling

This was fun, too, and not as dangerous as snowboarding. I liked the feel of the air moving quickly against my face. I raced the other cyclists, but I'm not as fast as they are, so I lost. It was the most tiring sport! I needed a good rest after the race.

Volleyball

Volleyball was not as exciting as snowboarding, but I liked working as a team. You have to communicate well. Our team communicated the best, so we won the game! You can only use your hands to hit the ball in this sport, and you can't let it touch the ground.

Golf

I didn't like golf very much, but you don't need to be as active as me to like it. It was probably the least exciting sport for me, but I know lots of people enjoy it!

2 Read and choose the correct option.

1 Chuck tried different sports / vacations.
2 Snowboarding was the most difficult / exciting.
3 In snowboarding, you need strength to go faster / change direction.
4 Cycling was the most tiring / dangerous.
5 Volleyball was less / more exciting than snowboarding.
6 It's important to jump / communicate well in volleyball.
7 Golf was the least / most boring.
8 The writer was generally positive / negative about the sports he tried.

3 Read and discuss.

1 Which different sports have you tried?
2 Which were your most and least favorite? Why?
3 What sport would you like to try, but haven't yet?

FORCES IN SPORTS

When we practice sports, we use different kinds of forces. Here are five common types of forces:

1 Applied Force

Applied force is when we push or pull an object. In golf, we hit the ball with applied force using a golf club, making it move away from us. If you apply more force, the ball will travel farther.

2 Gravity Force

Gravity is the strongest force. It pulls everything closer to the Earth's surface. For example, when we hit a volleyball up over the net, it always comes down because of gravity.

3 Friction Force

When we are on a snowboard or sled, gravity pulls us downwards. Friction is the force that pushes in the opposite direction. It is a reaction to the snowboard moving against the snow. Friction is not as powerful as gravity.

4 Tension Force

Tension is the force created by a rope, chain, or string being pulled. In a tug-of-war, there is tension force on both sides.

5 Spring Force

Have you ever been on a trampoline? When a spring is pushed downwards, and the pressure is taken away, spring force pushes it up again, making you jump higher than normal!

Marcus's Adventure

"Have you packed yet?" shouted Marcus's mom. They were preparing for their trip to the east coast, and Marcus was excited about swimming in the ocean.

"Almost! I'm just packing in my swimming trunks."

"Remember what we said!" said his mom. "It's going to be cold, so we're not going swimming this time. Sorry!"

Marcus didn't hear her. He was too busy deciding which shorts to take.

"The train leaves at 7 a.m.," she said. "I'll come and wake you up if you'd like."

"Great!" replied Marcus, after pushing his beach toys in the suitcase. "I'll be ready!"

On the train, Marcus's dad told him about their plans. "First, we're going to see the ocean. Next, we're going to visit an old castle, and then we're going to climb the mountains in the north for some fresh air!" he said.

"Sounds great!" said Marcus. But he wasn't listening. He was imagining the fun he would have exploring deep caves on the beach.

When they got to the hotel, Marcus ran into his room. "I'm going to get changed!" he shouted. His mom and dad looked at each other, confused.

"OK. We'll wait here," said his dad.

Standing on the beach in his swimming shorts, Marcus shivered.

"We told you it would be cold," said his mom. "But you didn't listen!"

Changes in Climate

The weather is always changing. One day, it's sunny, and the next, it could be snowy or stormy. Every day we can expect weather changes, but the climate should stay the same. The climate is the general temperature in a part of the world. For example, deserts are hot; the North and South Poles are cold; and jungles can be humid. Nowadays, the climate is changing, and that means big changes in the weather and environment, too.

Scientists believe that, in the future, temperatures are going to get higher and higher as time goes on. Ice is going to melt, and the sea level will rise. The temperatures in the ocean may change, too, so the water could be too hot for the fish and sea creatures to live.

At the North and South Poles, the ice is already melting, so in the future, many animals may lose their homes and sources of food, too. In big cities, there will be more storms, and the air might become foggy.

We may be able to save the planet from climate change if we work together. The Saudi Green Initiative (SGI) is a national initiative that aims to combat climate change and improve the quality of life and protect the environment for future generations in Saudi Arabia. Click here to read more about it.

Climate Change

Reasons

The Greenhouse Effect

Greenhouses are houses made of glass, used to grow plants. The glass traps heat, so the greenhouse gets very hot. There are gases around the world that act like a greenhouse. They trap the heat from the sun, making the temperature very high.

Burning Fossil Fuels

Coal, oil, and natural gas add to the greenhouse gases in the air when they are burned.

Farming

There are around 1.5 billion cows on Earth. They send methane, a gas, into the air every day.

Deforestation

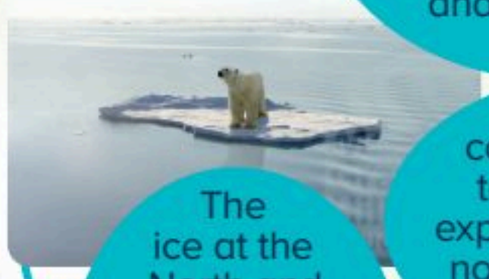

Trees are cut down to use the wood or make space for housing and farming.

Effects

Scientists believe we are going to have unusual weather because of high temperatures on Earth. Some examples are heatwaves, storms, and droughts.

The ice at the North and South Poles is going to melt, and many animals may lose their homes.

Food could be difficult to find or really expensive. We need normal weather to help food grow.

Trees absorb carbon dioxide, a greenhouse gas. When trees are cut down, the carbon dioxide stays in the air.

What can we do?

- Walk more or use public transportation.
- Turn off the lights and power when you don't need them.
- Recycle and reuse things.
- Plant a new tree.
- Take shorter showers.

1 The gases that trap heat around the Earth and cause climate change create the greenhouse effect.

2 Coal, oil, and natural gas are all _____ fuels.

3 There are _____ cows on Earth.

4 If we cut down trees, _____ stays in the air.

5 The _____ is melting at the North and South Poles.

6 Everyone should _____ more instead of driving.

7 It's a good idea to _____ things instead of throwing them away.

Reese's Surprise Gift

It was almost Reese's graduation, and her friends Olivia and Luna were looking for the perfect gift. They met at the mall and decided what to look for.

"Reese said she didn't have any winter clothes," said Luna. "Now that it's getting cold, maybe we can get her some gloves to keep her warm!"

"That's a nice idea," replied Olivia. "But I think she has some new gloves. Maybe we can buy some sunglasses that will protect her eyes from the winter sun."

Luna thought about this and shook her head. "No, she said she doesn't like wearing sunglasses. We'll have to think of something else."

The friends walked around the mall looking for some winter clothes for Reese.

"Wait! I remember," said Olivia. "Reese told me yesterday that her pajamas were getting old. Let's get her some new pajamas!"

They ran to the clothing store and picked out some pajamas with big pockets. Then they heard a voice behind them.

"Hello!" said Reese. "What are you doing here?"

Olivia and Luna looked at each other. "Your mom told me you were resting today!" said Luna.

"I was. But I decided to buy some new pajamas! Mine are so old!"

When Reese left, Olivia and Luna sat down. "We'll have to start again!" said Olivia.

Fast Fashion and Clothing Waste

What is fast fashion?

Fast fashion is when clothing brands make cheap and low-quality clothes. These clothes often change every season. We asked one store why they were making new clothes so quickly.

They told us that the customers wanted clothes that were fashionable and matched the season—spring, summer, fall, or winter. They said that people also liked to buy cheap clothes.

What is the problem?

We asked an organization why this was a problem. They said that every time we bought new clothes, we threw the old ones away! About one garbage truck full of textiles is thrown away every second!

They told us that production of new clothes was contributing to climate change because of the energy used by factories.

Also, there are tiny pieces of plastic in fast-fashion products that, when we wash them, go into the ocean and harm the sea life. We need to reduce the clothing waste as well as clothing production.

What can we do?

- Repair your clothes if they have holes. Don't throw them away!
- Recycle: Pass your clothes on to younger family members when you grow.
- Buy your outfits in second-hand stores.
- Buy clothes of high quality. They are more durable, so they last longer.

1 What does fast fashion mean? It means the clothes are made, bought, and replaced very quickly.

2 Why do people buy clothes from fast fashion? _____

3 How much textile is wasted every second? _____

4 What problem does the production of new clothes contribute to? _____

5 What happens when we wash fast-fashion clothes? _____

6 How can you recycle clothes? _____

1 A Terrible Day 2 The Wrong Room 3 New Clothes

Lucas walks to school more excited than usual. He has just signed up for the chess club and is looking forward to making new friends. He has never played chess before, but he has already done research online about the rules. He also started to follow a famous chess champion on social media. He feels prepared.

Throughout the day, Lucas imagines what the club might be like and who might be there. At the end of the day, he walks to the room and opens the door.

"Come in," says the teacher. "Welcome to the club! You'll need a change of clothes."

Lucas is confused. He didn't think there was a uniform for chess. Then he sees the other students. They are all wearing theater costumes. Has he made a mistake?

"Come on! Hurry up! The drama club doesn't wait around! There are some extra clothes here if you don't have any."

Lucas has gone to the wrong room. He looks around at the drama club. He could make new friends here, too. They seem friendly, he thinks.

The club members smile at him. "Come on in!" says one. "We'd love a new member! We could use your help!"

Lucas feels pressured. He takes a moment to think. Everyone expects him to join the drama club now, but he was so excited about chess. Finally, he decides to leave.

"Thank you, everyone," he says with a smile. "Sorry, but I'm in the wrong place. Maybe next time!"

The group waves at Lucas as he leaves, feeling much more relaxed and excited to play chess!

2 8.5 Read, listen, and answer the questions.

1 Why is Lucas excited?
Lucas is excited because he has just signed up for the chess club.
2 What preparation has he done?
3 What confuses Lucas at first?
4 What clothes are the other students wearing?
5 What does Lucas think is positive about joining the drama club?

Subject: RE: Catching up

Hey, Saliha!

How have you been? It was great to hear from you after so long! I've just finished reading your e-mail. Let me answer your questions here:

☐ I've already gotten my results. I got great grades! I signed up for a study group, which helped. This semester I found P.E. difficult, but it looks like joining the athletics club was a great idea! My best grades were in science and languages. I never thought I was good at science, so it was a great surprise! The hardest exam was history, but I didn't do badly in that!

☐ I'd love to study art next semester. I've just applied for a scholarship so I can buy materials. I love the class, but it's a bit expensive. I think we have to take special paper, pencils, and tools for different art styles. But if I don't get the scholarship, I can borrow some materials from my friend. I've never applied for a scholarship before. Hopefully I'll get it! Have you ever gotten one? If not, you should send in an application! I can help you if you want!

[1] My classmates are really nice! I've just started following several of them on social media. They are really interesting. One of them is an assistant to a famous scientist! Another is really good at writing poetry. You should meet them!

What about you? Have you decided what you want to study next semester yet? How did your exams go?

Write back soon!

2 The friends have spoken recently. ☐

3 Amal took her exams a long time ago. ☐

4 She had a big improvement in physical education. ☐

5 Art materials are provided by the school. ☐

6 Amal hasn't heard back about her scholarship application yet. ☐

7 She doesn't recommend getting a scholarship. ☐

8 Amal thinks Saliha would like her classmates. ☐

3 Discuss the questions with your partner.

1 How do you catch up with old friends?

2 What questions would you like to ask them?

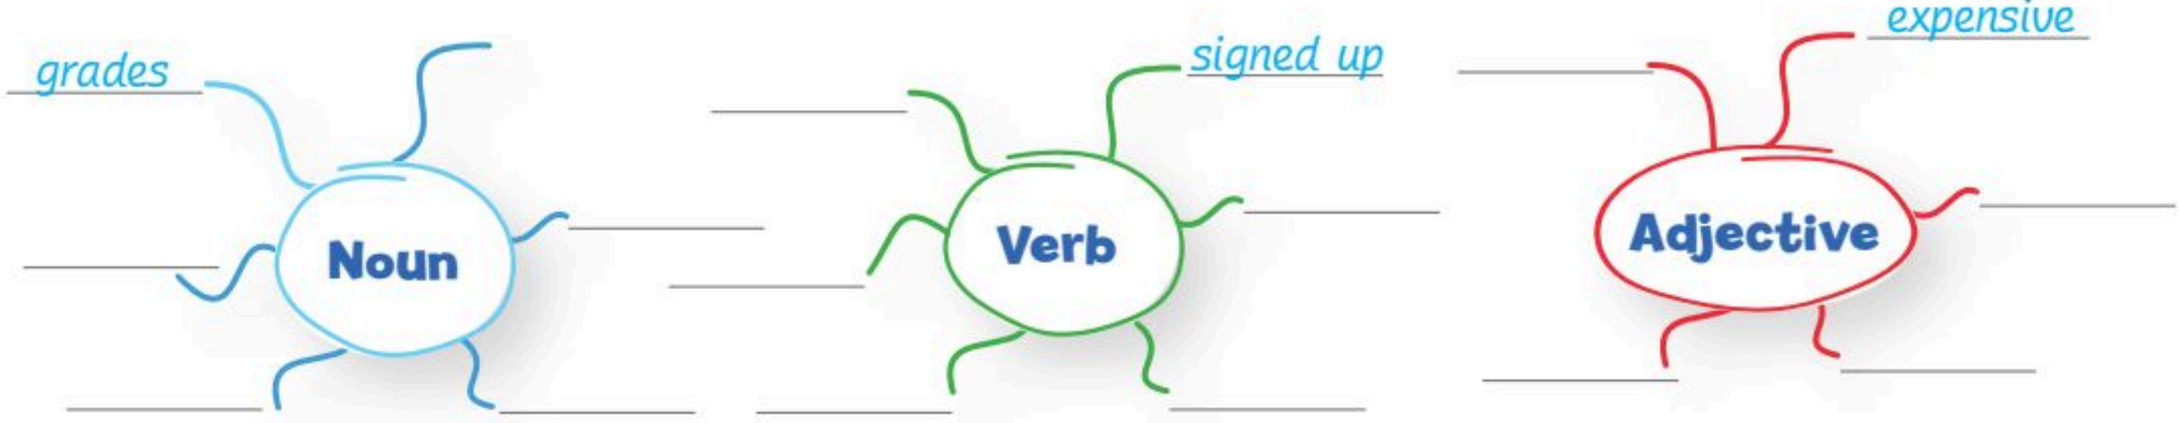

3 How would you answer the questions in the e-mail?

1 Look and discuss the questions with your partner.

1 What do you see in the pictures?
2 Should you do the same? Why?
3 Are the actions rules you have to follow or personal obligations?

2 Read and answer the questions.

Social Norms

Social norms are collectively agreed on actions and reactions that make the world a friendlier place. Young children have already learned several social norms from observing their parents and continue to learn them at school and in play. Teenagers find social norms important to help keep friends and fit in. Have you ever noticed these examples of social norms?

Rules you must follow in a pandemic:

- Wear a face mask in public.
- Sneeze into your elbow instead of your hand.
- Keep social distance.

You should follow these social norms when eating:

- Eat with your mouth closed.
- Don't talk with your mouth full.
- Clear away your dishes when you have finished.

Have you ever noticed your classmates following these social norms at school?

- Taking turns and including everyone.
- Listening to others.
- Being interested in people's differences.

1 Who decides which social norms are important?
Everyone in society helps to decide which social norms are important.
2 How do young children learn social norms?
3 Why are social norms important for teenagers?
4 Where should you sneeze?
5 Name two social norms to follow when eating.
6 In what situations should you take turns and include everyone?

Unit Review

1 Play and answer.

Start / Finish	1 Name four things you could do in middle school.	2 Tell your partner something you did very recently. Use "just".	3 Ask your partner about a problem they have. Give them a suggestion for how to solve it.
7 Tell your partner something you have never done but would like to do.	6 Answer. What do you call people who study in the same class?	5 Ask your partner a question using ever.	4 Write about your plans for the next semester.
8 Answer. What do you call a person who is 13–19 years old?	9 Answer. Which club did Lucas find by mistake?	10 Answer. Did Leah study to be a video game designer?	11 Answer. What do you need to fill out to enter college?
Return	14 Mention two verbs and two nouns related to school.	13 Name three social norms you should follow.	12 Tell your partner three school rules.

Project

Make a poster about how your close friends' plans have changed.

- Decide which friend(s) you want to ask about their plans.
- Write a list of questions.
- Ask your friend(s) and write down their answers.
- Put the information together on a poster.
- Add images and color to your poster.
- Present the poster to your group.

9 Read the poem.

Chorus
Goodbye, goodbye!
It's time to go.
You're finishing the course.
Now there's so much more you know.

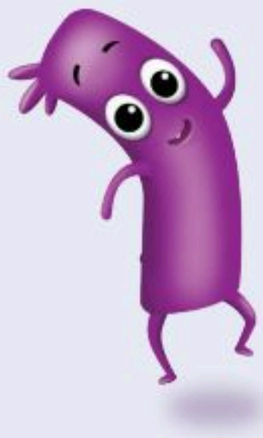

Goodbye, goodbye!
The school year is done.
But for now enjoy the summer,
and have lots of fun!

So goodbye, Amber and Maria in the zoo.
Goodbye, Fahad and Omar, too.

Goodbye to Victor and his violin,
to Lily and her family, to Amal and her mom.

Goodbye to Daisy and her volleyball team.
Goodbye to Bobby who achieved his racing dream!

Goodbye to Marcus, to Chuck and Norah, too.
To Reese and Joel, we say goodbye to you!

Saturday, May 17th

I'm on a wonderful [1] journey around the world, visiting different animal environments. Last week, I spent some time near the [2]_____, which is where lots of underwater creatures live. I saw an [3]_____! It was hiding because sometimes octopuses are eaten by whales and sharks. I also saw lots of small fish and dolphins. In the middle of the ocean is where most sea [4]_____ are seen. They don't come close to the beach very much. I had to take a trip on a [5]_____ to get close to them! But some are hunted by people, so the boat had to go slow because we didn't want to scare them.

This week, I am traveling through the [6]_____. This is where I can find some wild animals, so I need to be careful. Also, I have been bitten by lots of [7]_____ here! There are some strange creatures with huge wings! I need to put on a special spray to stop them from biting me. Yesterday, there was a lot of rain, but today it's hot. The [8]_____ here is strange!

Next week, I am going to visit the [9]_____. I'm going to ride a camel. That's exciting! It's also very hot in the desert. Lots of people get sick after they've been burned by the [10]_____. I need to take special clothes, a big hat, and lots of water.

I will write again tomorrow!

2 Read the text and choose the correct answers.

(a) Evelyn

I want to travel to the desert! That's where camels live. I would love to ride a camel and see the pyramids. My parents say we can take a trip to the desert one day, but I need to take lots of sunscreen. My skin is usually burned by the sun, so I need to be careful. My brother told me there are big beetles in the desert. I hope not. I don't like beetles!

(b) Fred

I'm excited about our vacation at the beach. My mom said we can take a boat out and see the animals under the water. I'm scared of sharks, so I hope we don't see any. We're going to my favorite beach. It's where we saw a small octopus once!

(c) Layla

I want to get a cat as a pet, but my sister wants a tortoise. She thinks it will be easier to look after. I don't know if a tortoise is kept in a tank or in the yard, but I think a cat would be better.

Josie's Journal

Friday, November 5th

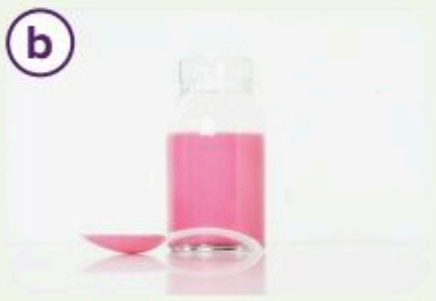

Today, I went to the hospital with a sore knee. There were a few people waiting when I arrived. Maria had a burn on her arm, and Jack had a broken toe. I had to wait a little, but I took a snack, so I didn't get hungry. I had a small salad with a few olives and a little salt and pepper. I also had a few strawberries in a small pot. But I didn't have a fork! I remembered my mom said, "If you don't take a fork, you'll have to eat with your fingers!" So I did!

- [5] Who wants to play at a festival or concert hall?

2 Read and order the events.

When my dad was younger, he listened to a lot of jazz music. He went to some concerts, and then he went to a big festival. But after that, he stopped liking jazz. His next big interest was stamp collecting. He won a prize for his huge collection!
When he was older, he traveled all over the world! He got an invitation to write travel articles for a magazine. First, he wrote an article about the pyramids in Egypt, but he's never seen the pyramids in Mexico. Then he wrote poetry about his trips! Now, he has been a member of a writing group for three years.

Subject: Hello!

Dear Susan,

This week we learned all about our teachers' old jobs. Mr. Jackson worked as a cybersecurity analyst before he started teaching, and Ms. Bryans was studying to be an astronaut when she changed her mind and became a teacher! Mrs. Foster was a firefighter while her kids were growing up, and Mr. Royce saved lives as a lifeguard while he was training to be a teacher! Ms. Freeman was working as a police officer when she decided to work in education.

What do you think your teachers were doing before they worked in your school?

Speak soon,

Leah

a Our Weather Predictions
b How the Climate Has Changed
c The Weather Today

For anyone leaving home this weekend, be careful! With the change in climate, we have some unusual weather coming. Here we give you the different weather conditions in the north, south, east, and west of the country.

In the north, it's going to be [1] foggy all weekend, especially in the high areas in the hills. Make sure you use your lights if you are [2]_____ on the roads. There might be some [3]_____ in the morning, but it's not likely. We think it's going to be cold most of the weekend. Anyone who wants to spend the weekend out in [4]_____ should take a coat because it may be rainy, too.

In the south, the weather is very different, and it could be a good place to go if you want a weekend adventure outside! It's going to be hot and [5]_____ most of the time, and the air will be very [6]_____. Enjoy the sunshine by visiting the ocean. You can [7]_____ in the water or just lie in the sun. You should wear sunscreen if you go outside [8]_____ the day so you don't get burned. There might be some clouds on Sunday, but only for a short time.

In the west, the weather is going to [9]_____ a lot, so be prepared for all kinds of weather! We predict fog in the morning, and it could be [10]_____, too, so take a coat if you go outside. It is going to be [11]_____ in the afternoon, so it's best to stay inside. After the storm, it's going to be warm but cloudy in the evening.

Finally, the east will have lots of [12]_____ all weekend, and it might not stop snowing all week!

1 6.3 Listen and order the lines.

Chorus
Where to go, where to go on our adventure?
Where to go? Are you ready for an adventure?

- [ ] What's west? In the west, there is a stream. A stream?
- [ ] Go east! In the east, there is a castle. A castle?
- [2] Up the hill, the air is warm and fresh, you'll see!
- [8] You can cross the stream on the bridge if you're brave!
- [1] Go north! In the north, there is a hill. A hill?
- [ ] Go south! In the south is the ocean. The ocean?
- [ ] You can go inside the castle. Look, I have the key!
- [ ] The ocean is deep, and nearby there's a cave!

Chorus (x2)

2 Read and correct the sentences.

Today, we're going to visit a big cave in the forest. There is a stream coming out of it, and it may be very deep! It could be cold in there, so we're going to need warm clothes. It may be easy to find, but we need to check the directions, just in case. Outside the hotel we are going to follow the path through the forest. When we get to the bridge, we need to turn left. I think that's north. Then we're going to see the cave, I think! There might be a storm later, so I'll take extra clothes, just in case.

Your Fashion Questions Answered!

Everyone has their own individual [1] style, and the best fashion advice we can give is to wear the clothes that make you feel great! But some of our readers had questions about fashion emergencies, and we wanted to [2]_____ them here.

Liam asked if it was a fashion emergency to wear the same clothes as someone else. We don't think so! Everyone is [3]_____, and clothes are not an important way to show you are unique. If you're worried about wearing the same sneakers or sunglasses as a [4]_____, there's no problem at all! Just enjoy the clothes you have!

Hudson told us she felt more confident in baggy clothes and asked if that was OK. Of course it is! It doesn't matter what size or shape your [5]_____ is. Baggy clothes aren't always [6]_____. They can be really comfortable and look amazing!

Hudson asked why all the best clothes were expensive. We [7]_____! There are so many cheap options out there and some great styles without spending a lot of [8]_____. Expensive doesn't always mean better!

Ava told us she didn't know what size to buy. This can be difficult. Choose the [9]_____ that makes you feel the most comfortable—not too slim, and not too baggy. In many stores, there are people who can [10]_____ you pick out clothes.

Do you have any other questions for our fashion experts? Send us an e-mail!

Hey, guys! When do we have to complete the application for the scholarship?

Nasir
Tomorrow! Oh, no! I must finish that!

Saeed
Me, too! Can we do it together?

Nasir
Sure!

Badr
We could all meet at the café and help each other.

Ashraf
I've finished mine. You should follow the tips from the teacher. They're really helpful.

1 Badr is sharing an idea.

2 _____ is giving a recommendation.

3 _____ is expressing a personal obligation.

4 _____ is expressing an ability or possibility.

5 _____ is asking about a rule or obligation.

2 Read and choose the correct option.

1 You can / have to apply for several volunteer programs if you want.
2 If you want to pass your exams, you should / can study hard.
3 Students in some schools have to / could wear a uniform and should / can be sent home if they don't.
4 Many teenagers feel they have to / must make friends to make school more enjoyable.
5 In many schools, students must / can use the library to complete their homework.
6 If you are finding school difficult, you could / must join a study group to improve your grades.

Mr. Sanchez: So, Logan. Tell me what you have done to prepare for your exams.

Logan: [1] Well, I've already improved my grades with the study group. I went to several extra classes this semester.

Mr. Sanchez: That's excellent! I'm glad to hear it. You could sign up for a study buddy, too.

Logan: [2] _____

Mr. Sanchez: Great! And how are you feeling about the exams? Do you feel ready?

Logan: [3] _____

Mr. Sanchez: That's a good idea. The practice exams will be very helpful! Have you thought about what you'll do during summer yet? Remember, you don't have to do a summer activity, but you can if you want to.

Logan: [4] _____

Mr. Sanchez: Well, maybe you should apply for a scholarship! Then you could take the class and not worry about the money.

Logan: [5] _____

Mr. Sanchez: Let me show you the website where you can apply. Some of your classmates have already gotten their scholarships for different summer classes.

Logan: [6] _____

Mr. Sanchez: Of course! Let's speak to your teacher and find out how you can help!

2 Read the text and complete Logan's missing lines.

a That's a good idea! Where can I find the application?

b I think so. I feel better than last semester. My classmates and I worked hard, and we've taken lots of practice exams.

c Yes, I have. I've already signed up for the athletics summer class. I also want to take a class at the art academy, but it's very expensive.

d Yes, I want to. I've already spoken to the study buddy coordinator. I think I'll sign up next week.

e ~~Well, I've already improved my grades with the study group. I went to several extra classes this semester.~~

f OK. Thanks! I also want to be an assistant to my art teacher. Do you think I can?
